Automobiles and Moonlight Mean Nothing to Girls

College Secretary Claims They Prefer Part in Business World.

By United Press.
NEW YORK, June 4.—The sweet girl graduate is planning an onslaught on American business.

An industrial career—not matrimony—is her ambition.

Moonlight and motor cars mean nothing to her—for her romance she wants a desk in the swirl of the commercial world.

Inquiries on aspirations of the graduating classes of Barnard college, one of the world's largest women's schools today revealed that at least 80 per cent expect to make their mark in business.

"There is a drift from teaching and other special women professions," Miss Katherine Doty, secretary, stated to the United Press. "These new professions and occupations include: efficiency engineering, bond selling, draftsmanship, farming, agriculture, sculpture, costume designing, law, medicine, psychological work, executive positions in department stores, buyers, newspaper work, volunteer social, civil and religious work."

"Though these are not all they represent the variety of fields covered. The drift from teaching is evinced in alumni reports, she stated, showing in 1915, 33 percent of all graduates were teaching, in comparison with 27 percent in 1921.

"The other occupations have gained more than teaching has lost, the percent of graduates engaging in them rising from 1 to 31 percent," she said. "Only thirty percent are married with no paid occupation."

The trend to business, she indicated, does not mean all graduates are turning away from matrimony, as the proportion of graduates married increased from 30 to 38 percent. The desire for business, however, indicates that hopes for business careers are placed before matrimony.

NAB TWO ON COUNT AFTER CAR FOUND

Message From Army Camp Causes Apprehension of Men in Uniforms.

Two men in U. S. army uniforms, who gave their names as Frank Wood of Chicago, and John M. Gatewood, of Grand Rapids, are held by the South Bend police for authorities at Rockford, Ill., from which place it is said that they stole a Dodge touring car, which they tried to sell in South Bend.

Wednesday night according to information received from the police Gatewood and Wood appeared at the Bennett automobile market in South Bend and offered to dispose of the Dodge for $400.

The proprietors of the Bennett market became suspicious of the car and communicated their doubts to the police. Thursday morning a telegram was received by the police from Rockford telling the local department to be on the lookout for a stolen car. The description of the car said to be stolen in Rockford tallied in every respect with the one in the possession of Wood and Gatewood, even the engine number corresponding and on Friday the men were arrested by Detectives Kish and Winthers.

Makes Booze, Jailed, Then U. S. Demands Big Revenue

The goddess of fate had been smiling until Saturday morning upon Frank, alias "Peg" Paul, of Walkerton, who had been a guest of Sheriff L. B. Duck in the county jail for the past few weeks.

Peg was staying out $130 fine and serving a 30 day sentence for distilling whisky at Walkerton, Ind., and since March 21 he has had the privilege to think knowingly upon the fallacy of making easy money by illicit schemes.

With his sentence and fine, Paul had but two weeks more to serve and his release was due about June 21. Paul had planned to return to Walkerton, according to Sheriff Duck, and live peaceably as a law-abiding citizen.

This morning he received a rather important communication from the government. With trembling hand, Paul opened the seal. He read the

Just now Paul is wondering where he will get the money to pay the liquor revenue inasmuch as he lacks funds with which to pay his fine and costs.

Klein Enjoins Pair From Selling Liquor at Store

When Judge Fred C. Klein granted a perpetual injunction Saturday against Julius and Emilie DeVuyssere enjoining them from selling intoxicating liquor at their store, 538 W. Sixth st., Mishawaka, it was the first action of its kind decided in this county on the public nuisance abatement statute of Indiana.

The plaintiff was the state on relaxation of V. J. Pfender, chief of police of Mishawaka against the defendants. The plaintiffs set forth that the defendant had been convicted of illegal liquor sales in the Mishawaka city court and that Julius DeVuyssere, the husband, was now serving a sentence in the county jail.

The defendants were also required to put up a $1,000 bond with the clerk of the court to guarantee that no liquor will be sold for one year. A violation of the injunction would make the defendants liable for contempt of court and violation within a year would also subject the bond to forfeiture.
